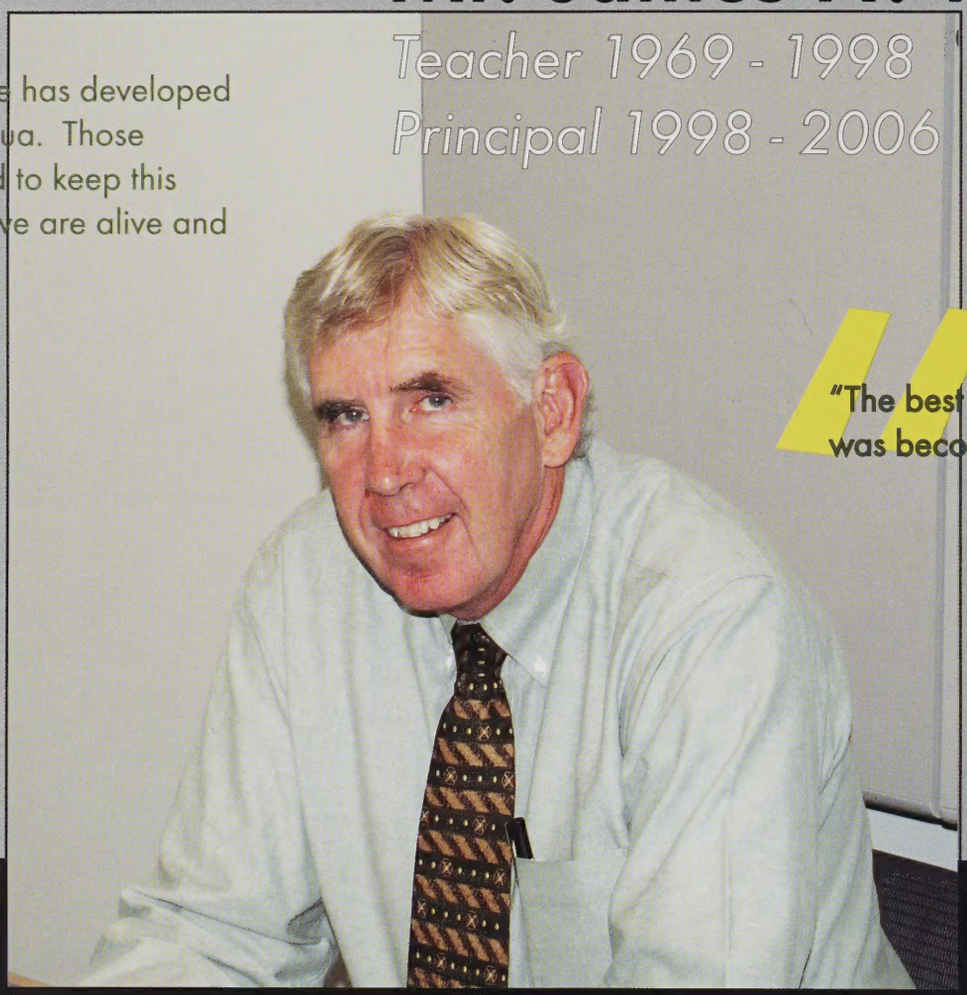
It is undeniable that Tantasqua is more than an ordinary high school. Its students and faculty are unforgettable and the bond that is made during these four short years is unbreakable.Though it seems that high school is more like a punishment than anything else, it really is true what they say: These are the best years of our lives. It seems like it has taken forever to come to where we are today, but it really is just the beginning. Waiting to look back on today isn't really so far away, because today, yesterday is over. If you're beginning to sense a theme here, you're catching on. And if not, it's okay, this isn't a test. Everything is open-ended. You make your own endings, because after all this is only the beginning. Fill in your own dots and see one how leads to another. Tantasqua has helped get us to where we are today, it is your job to decide what comes next. An unforgettable journey lies ahead as we leave unforgettable memories behind. Where our ending to this chapter may take us is just unknown, but until then, just follow the paths that have gotten us here.

Thank you...

Mr. James N. White

Teacher 1969 - 1998
Principal 1998 - 2006

"A whole culture has developed around Tantasqua. Those who come need to keep this culture of who we are alive and continuous."



"The best mistake I ever made was becoming a teacher."

In his thirty-seven years at Tantasqua, Mr. White has assumed the responsibilities of a History and English teacher in the Tech department, a History and Economics teacher in the Academic department, and assistant principal. He spent his last eight years as not only the principal, but also as a mentor and role model for the students and faculty at Tantasqua.

Graduation Day is not the end, but only the beginning. Tantasqua takes pride in the alumni returning to visit year after year. The students encompass a good relationship with the faculty, which is unique and has been one of Mr. White's greatest contributions to Tantasqua. At first, newcomers to the school notice the building but soon they realize it is the students and faculty that make up Tantasqua.

Taking on the role as principal has not stopped Mr. White from interacting with the students. Going into various classes reminds him of why he has been an educator at Tantasqua for so long. The energy that students give off motivates teachers and administrators to use unique methods of guidance.

After nearly four decades of preparing for a life after high school, the surrounding community still has no idea of the opinions, excellence and intelligence of its students. Dedication and hard work will lead to success; both teachers and students have learned this and have grown throughout their high school career. The students keep the teachers young with new experiences everyday, making graduation equally as hard for the teachers.

As the first four years of the new high school come to an end, the graduating the Class of 2006 and Mr. White will mark the end of a era and the beginning of a new journey.

In Loving Memory...

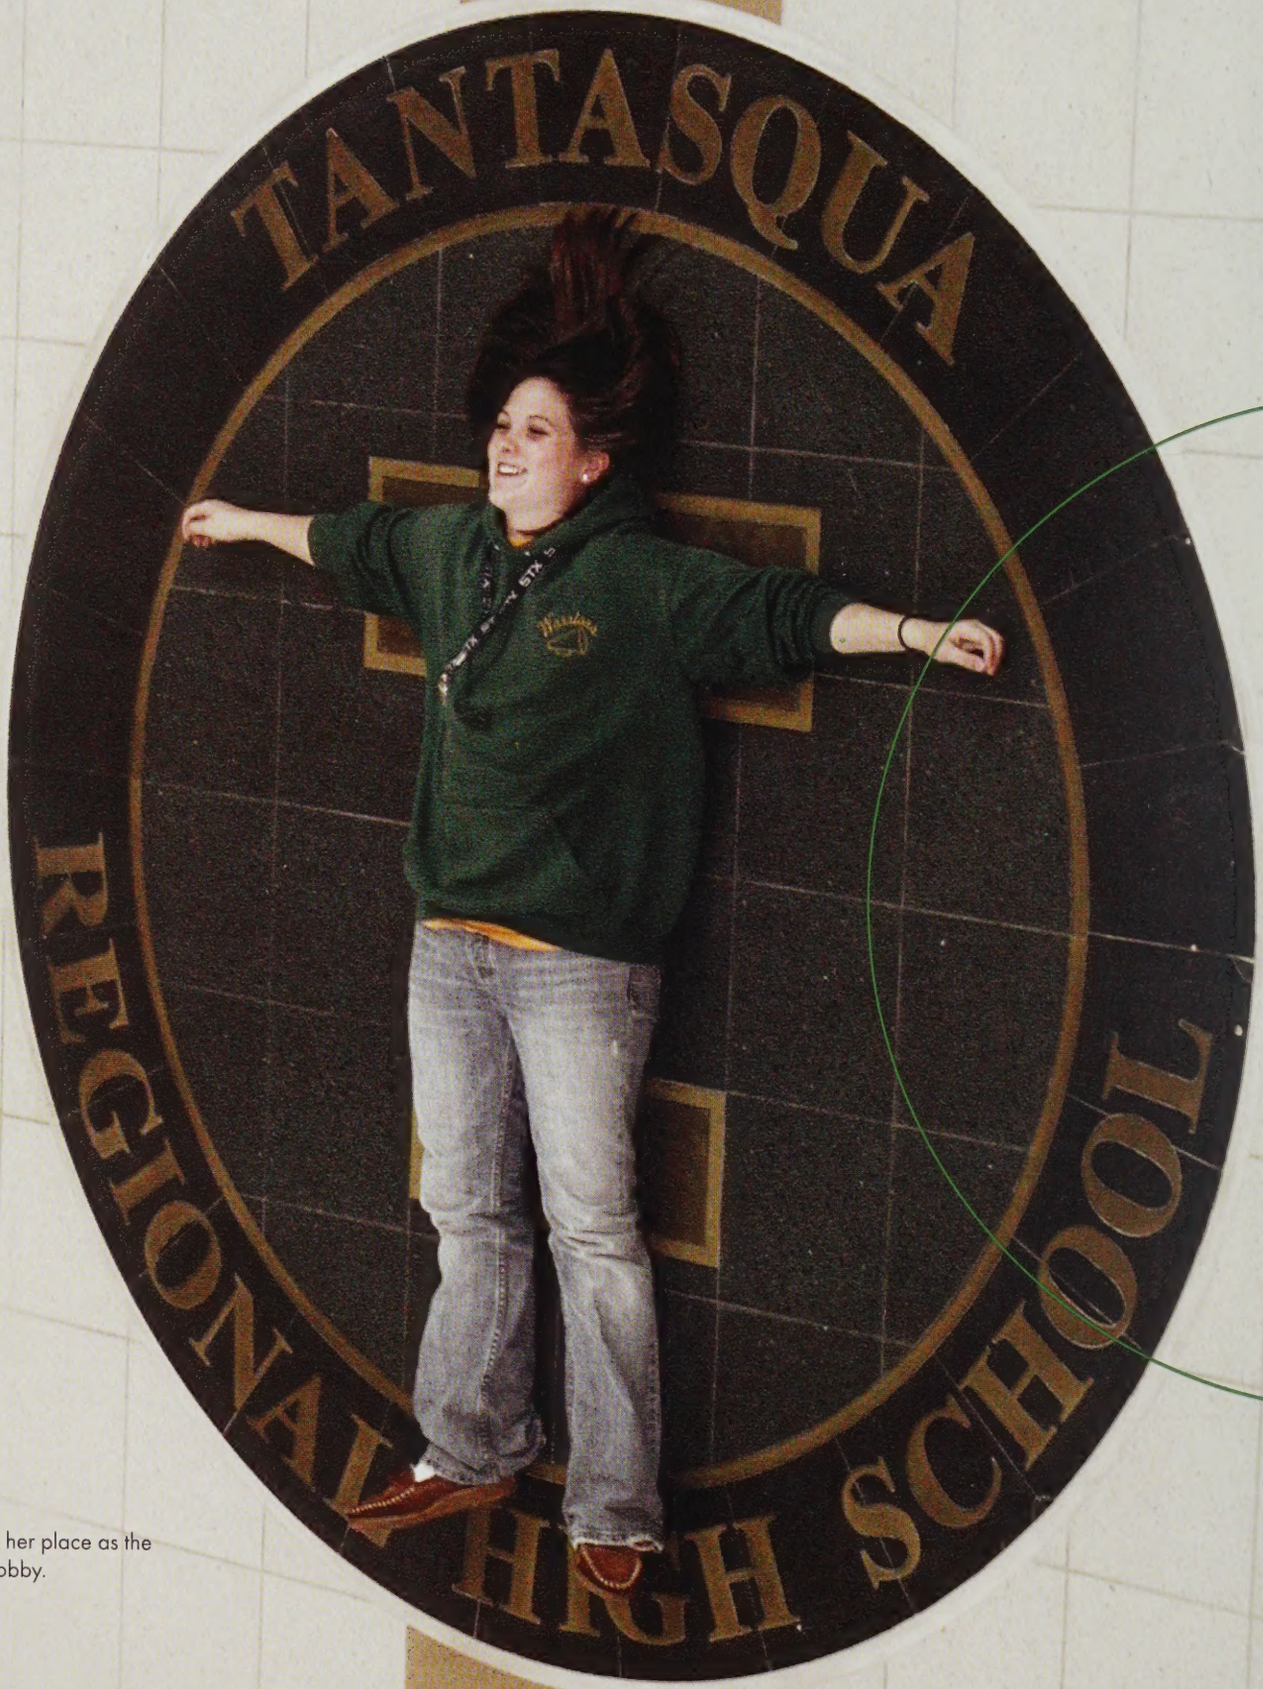
Sandra Lee Smith

1956 - 2005

Sandra Smith was a loving wife, mother and friend. She was an active member of both the Tantasqua, and Holland school committees. She volunteered as a Girl Scout leader for a number of years. She wanted to make sure that everyone in the community got a fair chance to participate in whatever activities we had to offer. She did whatever it took to give everyone a fair chance to live up to their full potential. Sandra was an active member of the Holland Congregational Church. Her biggest contribution was being a daycare provider to the Holland community.

Sandy, as she was better known, was a daycare provider for sixteen years. She treated every single child as one of her own. She was like a second mother to all of the daycare children. Being a daycare provider wasn't her job, it was her life. She never forgot any of her children. After they had grown up and moved on from her care, she always remembered them. It didn't matter how long a child was in her care, whether it was for a month or ten years she had a place in her heart for every single one. Sandy created an environment for the children in which they could learn, play, have fun, and always feel safe. Most of the time when the parents would come to pick up their children, they would never want to leave. They loved her home, and even more importantly they loved her.

Sandy treated everyone as if she had known them forever, as if they were life long friends. She gave everyone the respect they deserved. She would always give you the benefit of the doubt, even if she knew you were wrong. She always looked on the bright side of things, and encourage you every chance she got. Sandy was an outstanding person and a remarkable friend. She will be greatly missed.



Britty McGlone takes her place as the new "Miss T" in the lobby.

Un... mistakable

Tantasqua is not just a building. It is the People that dwell inside of the building that define Tantasqua. Tantasqua is full of so many different people that come together in a unique way. The faculty, administrators, staff and students, are all the different peices of the puzzle that makes Tantasqua not just a school but a home as well. The administrators, faculty and staff are the mentors for the students. They don't just teach math, history, english, and science, they teach the skills you need in order to solve problems, make good decisions, and survive in the world that is waiting outside of Tantasqua. As the seniors prepare to leave the comforts that Tantasqua has provided to them for the past four years, they are also creating a path for the underclassmen to follow. The seniors set the tone, they are the leaders of the school. The underclassmen look up to the seniors so it is their responsibility to pass on their knowledge that they have gained over the past four years. As the underclassmen prepare to become the leaders, the seniors prepare to begin their journey, and the faculty, administrators and staff continue to lead the students in the right direction. We are all beginning a new chapter of our lives. No matter where you go, or who you become, Tantasqua will always be a part of you.

"Looking back on my four years at Tantasqua, I have realized that the most memorable moments have come from the amazing people in the Class of 2006. We have adapted to many new things, and we have made the most of our four years at Tantasqua. We have encountered many bumps along the way, but these have only made us closer as a class. The relationships that have been formed will be remembered forever, just like the Class of 2006."

"We were all freshmen once, little, arrogant, inconspicuous, and unheard. We would have never thought that senior year would happen. This year seemed a lifetime away, but it wasn't. In June we will be in the real world. Jobs and college are all that we have to look forward to. The senior class is going to leave Tantasqua and what do we have to show for it? A piece of paper, just a piece of paper. The United States consitution, the declaration of independence, and the bill of rights were all written on just a piece of paper. This piece of paper is the most significant certificate we will ever recieve. This certificate proves that the last twelve years of our lives were actually worth something. Without these certificates, so far, about two thirds of our lives have been worthless. With this in mind,the last two thirds of our lives have definitely been worth something."

"With our senior year drawing to a close, I will always remember the Class of 2006. In the last four years we have all left our mark on Tantasqua, and really bonded as a group. From coming to the new school as a freshman, to marching in as a class at the end of junior year, the Class of 2006 has always been an important part of the school. We have come a long way, and we all still have a long way to go, but no matter what, the Class of 2006 will always have the memories of all of the fun times we spent together."

To my best friend Travis, it's been a pleasure knowing you, I hope we meet again sometime. To Bayley it never would have worked out between us, just kidding, by the way thanks for saying I look like a whole different man, it made my day. To Jason Ross, goodbye good luck, and may the good lord look after you. To my buddy Andy, keep saying your prayers, I'm sure it will help you with your problems. To Sam, I'm sorry for the way I acted at our homecoming, I still feel pretty bad about that. To Ziggy, there's something different about you that separates you from all your friends, I respect that. To Dell, you've got a lot going for you man I can see it. To John Metcalf, you should quit smoking other than that I don't feel that you are a lost cause like some of your other friends. To josh Farland, Blarge, Oh and also its not that I hate you it's just that if you're going to act like a moron I'm going to treat you like one. I'll be thinking of all of you when I leave. I'll put a good word for you in my prayers from time to time. Goodbye and God bless.

The class of 2006 holds on to a Tantasqua tradition by joining together to make a human '06. This picture used to be taken in the school's football field when the old building was still standing. Today, the picture is taken in the courtyard between the technical building and the academic building. Mr. Les Gardner, our photographer braves the elements and takes the photo from the roof of the building.

Even those who do not play sports have an appreciation for Tantasqua's athletic teams. Since last year, what was a small group of over-enthusiastic seniors at the Varsity Basketball home games turned into a large group of way-too-enthusiastic students. But who are these green and gold students? They are best known as the TRIBE.

Taking school spirit to an extreme, the TRIBE is a growing group. Students from all grades and cliques are joining this seemingly annual tradtition to help supprt our team and hopefully help cheer them on to victory. Painting their bodies, clothes and hair green and gold shows just what school spirit is all about.

The TRIBE truley is unforgettable. Leading the crowd in chants and cheering on the home team are just a few things the TRIBE does. True, they may discourage the other team, but isn't that what sports are all about ?

Undescribable and unbelievable, the TRIBE has helped Tantasqua realize that no matter the score, it stands behind its team and isn't afraid to show it.

The anatomy of Having slept until the absolute last minute, there's no time to do hair in the morning. You can tell by the way her hair is pulled back! Classic sign of tardiness.

Schoolwork? I thought senior year was supposed to be easy! Who ever heard of seniors taking major classes?

Backpacks are out. Bags and purses are in! When you're a senior, you don't need a back pack. Carrying your books is much cooler!

The ever-important cell phone and car keys. Two major necessities in every seniors life.

What would the morning be without coffee to wake us up? Most seniors find it necessary to drink coffee so they will be awake by C-Block.

This year ipods are the new thing. Everyone loves to listen to their music in between classes. And its pink!

Who wears socks anymore? Flip flops are the shoe of choice for most seniors. Again, they're time savers - no shoelaces to tie.

Seniors don't buy pants that are the right length. What would happen if they suddenly had another growth spurt?

a SENIOR

Surprisingly well groomed. His mom must have insisted he chop the shaggy doo he's been sporting since summer break.

Yay for school spirit! Varsity athletes do a great job of showing their school spirit. After all we are the role models for the underclassmen.

A gym bag is a must for any varsity athlete. How else are they supposed to carry all their equipment?

Car keys are a must. How else can he impress the girls?

The bag - filled with gym clothes that haven't been washed since school began as well as his english homework.

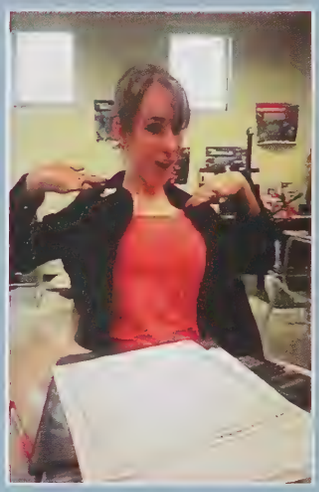
Don't forget the cell phone. What if an emergency call comes in from that girl you saw the other day? Let's hope it doesn't ring during class.

Blue jeans - a timeless tradition. The real question is - did he pull them out of the dirty clothes pile this morning?

Another classic! Socks with sandals are worn year round - through snow and rain. Very fashionable, but really, what's with the black socks?

"These are the best days of our li

A Typical Day...



It's a typical day at Tantasqua. The morning bell rings and students scurry to get to A-Block. Well at least the underclassmen do. The seniors, on the other hand are trying to finish up their breakfast at HooYa's before making their way to school.

The day is filled with classes, studying, and schoowork, but most importantly, socializing. When push comes to shove - what really matters in life whether in our out of school, is your friends. People may not remember the name of the last pulitzer prize winner, but they're sure to remember the people who made a difference in their lives. It could be a friend, a teacher or even just an aquantaince. In the years to come, these are the people who will be remembered.

Kira Madelle places Cornerstone Cafe Menu's into all of the teachers' mailboxes.

Julie Stevens, Anna Simons, Deirdre Bond-Stapleton, Laura Morse and friends show their support at a Tantasqua sporting event.

A typical day? Julie Kent is climbing the walls again? Or is she trying to find a way to escape this place? Nice pink socks Julie!

Becky Towns is either working as a lifeguard and posing with all of the equipment or is preparing to take a dip in the water herself and is just being a little overprotective.

Tom Bill, Richie Denis, Brett Cooke, Ryan DiGregorio, Mike Glynn and Erik Zisk do what they do best... bonding.

faculty & staff

offering unlimited knowledge, service and time

Every school needs a staff, from the teachers to the lunch ladies that feed us everyday. Without these people, our school would not be complete. Each year the members of our faculty watch as the freshman turn into experienced sophomores, and the seniors graduate into adulthood. For each year in between, they are there, guiding us along the way, helping and watching us grow into young adults. Whether it's after school help, or a stick of gum from Dan, they are always there to help us. The teachers, staff, and faculty here at Tantasqua make up a great community, and without them, our four years here would not be the same.

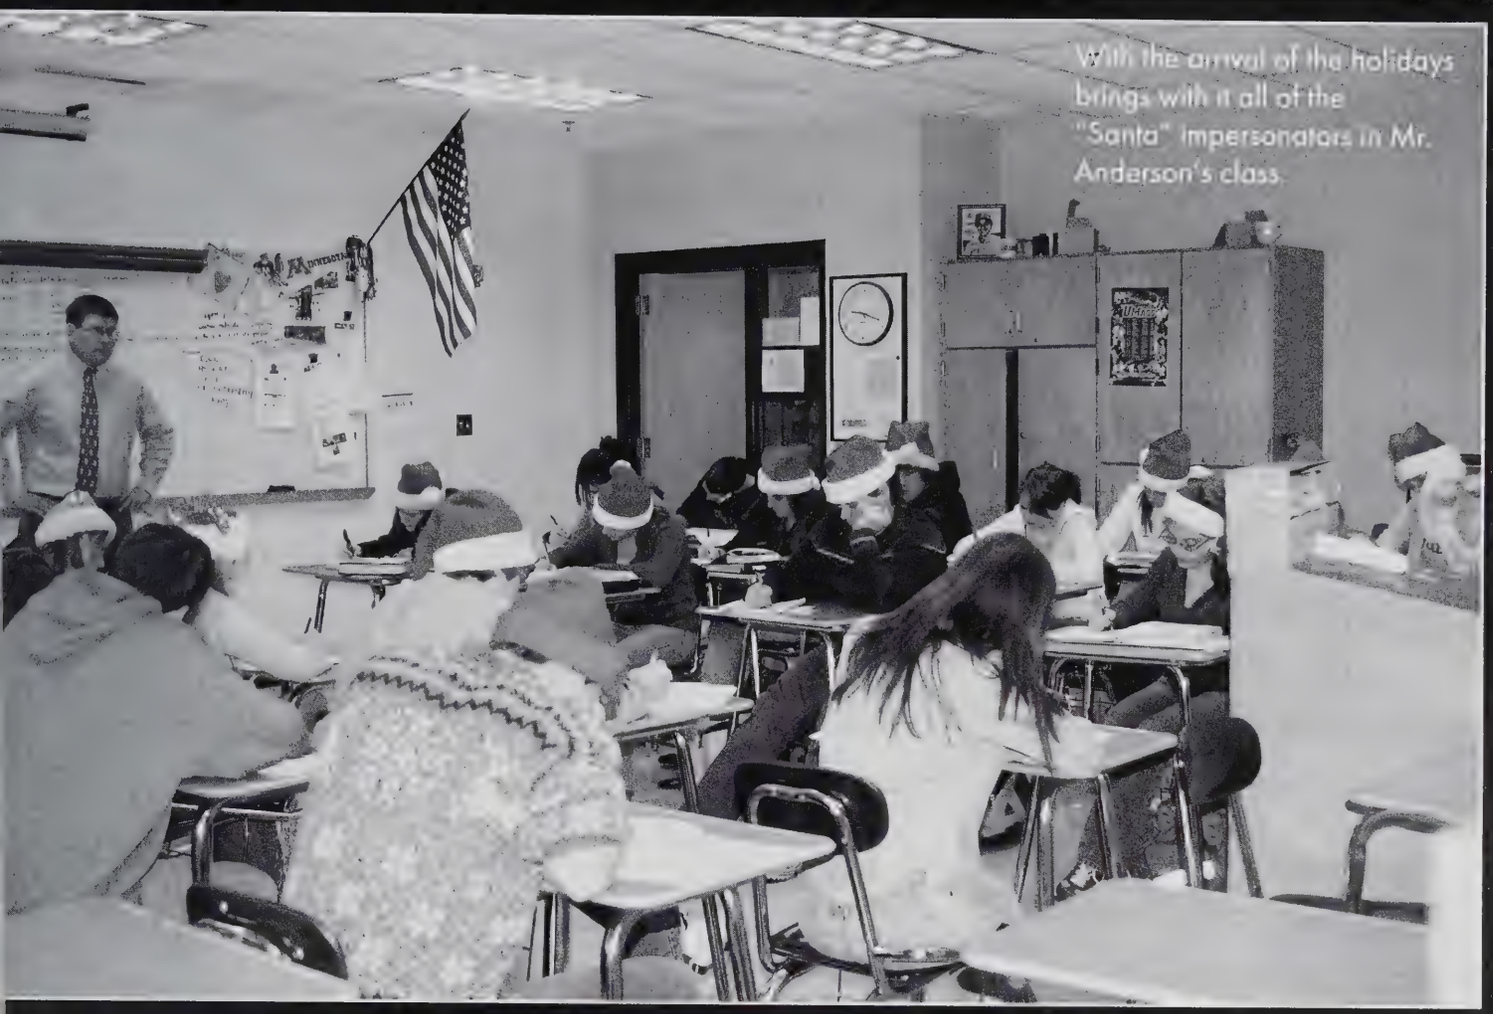
Hanging around the lunch table socializing is a sought after experience by all students.

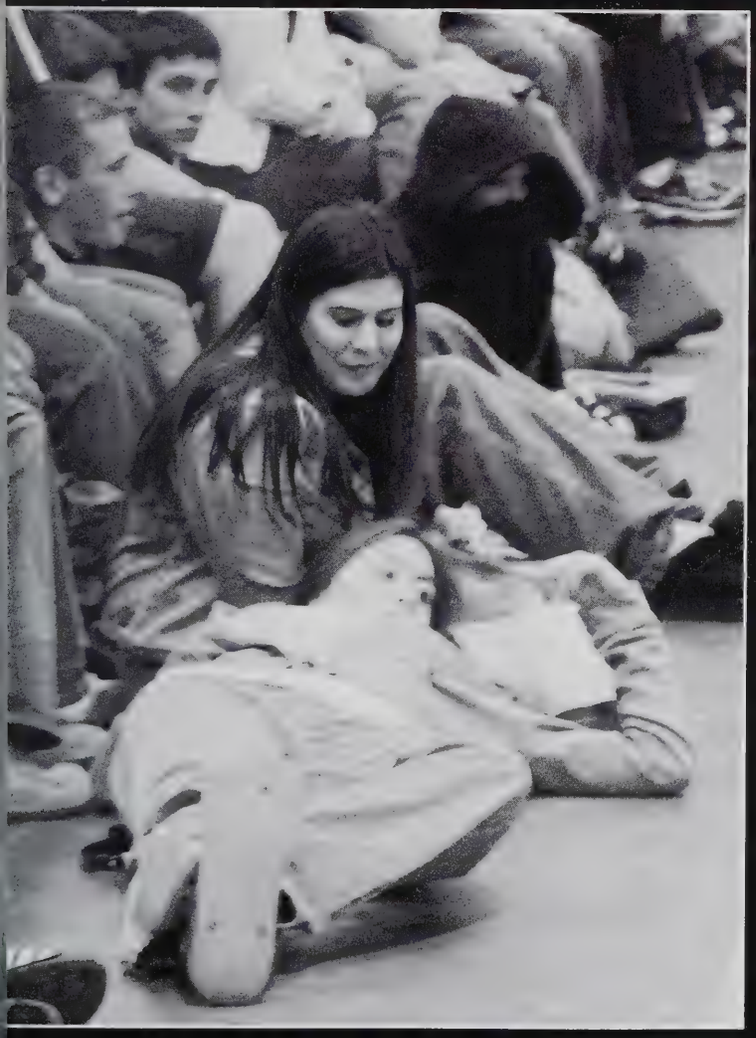
Sabrina Boyd is a little surprised to see a member of the yearbook behind her snapping photos when she turns to look.

Sean Johnson puts his "mad" organizational skills to work as he sorts through underclassmen photos so they may be handed out during the lunches.

Aaron vanDolson seems to just love the pep-rally fun and games. It seems as though the spirit of the rally is catchy.



With the arrival of the holidays brings with it all of the "Santa" impersonators in Mr. Anderson's class.



Taking in a pep-rally from the stands - or the floor in this case. This looks much more comfortable than those bleachers.

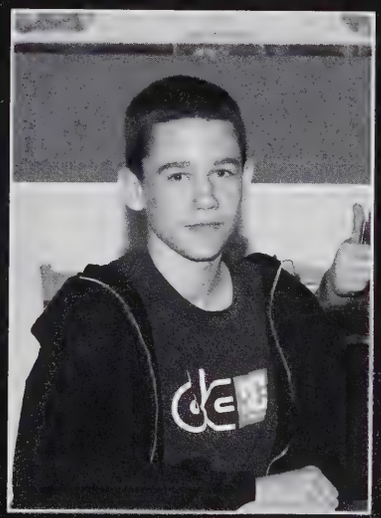
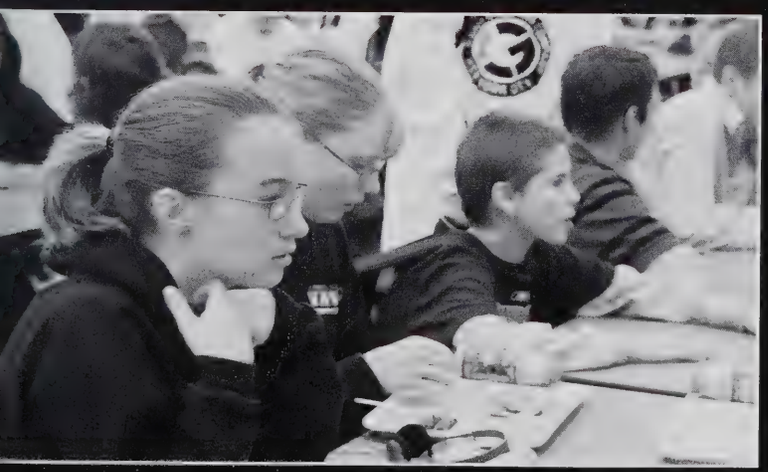
Getting ready for the Homecoming Dance is always a very exciting time - especially for a freshman - being the first homecoming they've ever attended.



Freshmen quickly learn how different the high school is from what they may be used to. Coursework is extremely rigorous and expectations are very high.



Hanging out with friends is something students at Tantasqua don't get a lot of time for. Time for socializing is a valued thing.

Claiming a table at lunch is something that occurs on the first few days of school. Once those seats are established - it's pretty hard to make a change.

The Pathways Program is undoubtably a wonderful addition to Tantasqua

The Pathways Program is new to Tantasqua this year. In what used to be the Photonics Laboratory, we now have a state of the art program for young individuals who may not have had the opportunity to be a part of the Tantasqua Community without this program. These students have come from numerous different places within the community and have been embraced by both the students and faculty here at THS. Their day is a structured one, beginning with coursework in numerous areas, social interaction, lunch and finally the bus ride home - they are as much a part of this school as the senior class. We hope to see the program continue to thrive and grow as next year approaches. The Pathways program has found a new home here at Tantasqua and we hope that they'll continue to call THS home for years to come.

Mrs. Collette is certainly loved by her students. This must be the day they made chocolate-chip cookies and she let them eat some of the dough. They're just SO appreciative!

Awww... how cute! Are we ever too young for love? Hanging out at the Homecoming Dance you're destined to see couples snuggling up on the dance floor for a slow dance.

It's what we do. It's who we are. It's our past, our future, and most importantly our present.

LIFE. Being in groups, clubs and sports brings the kids of Tantasqua together, and together we are a part of each others lives, everyday. At this point in time, our LIVES revolve around this school. Whether or not we participate in after school activites, THIS is where we meet our friends. THIS is where we make plans for the weekend. THIS is where we lay the foundations for our future lives. But HERE, RIGHT NOW, we live in the moment. We live for our favorite things. While we may be preparing for our futures, they are not quite as important as the next school dance, or that very important yearbook meeting next thursday. With so many clubs, activities, athletics, programs, and events here at Tantasqua, its hard not to be part of this LIFE.

The past few years in Allied Heath have been a wonderful learning experience. The Allied Health program has taught us many things. It has taught us how to be responsible and mature as well as how to develop confidence in caring for people.

As senior students, we get to apply our classroom knowledge in real life settings at Harrington Hospital and the Masonic Home. We work directly with the staff and patients/residents in these facilities. Also during our clinical experience, we job shadow in several different hospital departments including: pediatrics, obstetrics, intensive care, physical, occupational, and respiratory therapies, same day surgery, social services, nuclear and ultra sound machine, health education, radiology, and the laboratory. These experiences have helped us to make future career choices through hands-on learning. Without these experiences, we would have never known about the vast number of available career opportunities.

Our teachers have helped us to become certified in cardiopulmonary resuscitation, first aid and automatic defibrillator use and to prepare us to take the certification test to become nursing assistants and home health aides. They have encouraged us to explore all the career opportunities available in health care fields. Because of these experiences, we will begin our college educations knowing what major course of studies we want to pursue. We will also have state certifications, which will allow us to work in a health care atmosphere while attending college. This will provide additional clinical experiences and a source of income to help pay for our college education. We look forward to becoming the next generation health care professionals.

Tantasqua Regional Senior High School has something that is unique for most public high schools, a Technical Division. Within that Technical Division are seven program areas in which students can specialize in a trade for their final three years at Tantasqua and a Technology Center for classes during their first year at the school. One of those program areas is Carpentry. Usually a novice carpenter spends about two to three years hauling lumber and performing other similar jobs as they learn the trade from more experienced workers. The program at Tantasqua teaches students all aspects of home builiding, which is taught and reinforced with shed buliding in the shop. Other skills taught are associated with cabinet work. A graduate of Tantasqua's Carpentry program leaves the school with the skills and knowledge needed to become employed in the field right out of high school. Topics include framing, rafters, roofing, finish carpentry, as well as products and tools, just to name a few. The classroom time allows students to really learn the material and not just the bare bones of an idea. Carpenters who know their stuff can do a project and work with what they know to work more quickly and more effectively than one who just knows one way or one use for something. Students also go on field trips and do off-site work at local job sites. The Storage Facility along the back entrance to the schol was built by this year's juniors and seniors (Class of 2006 & Class of 2007). Complete lists of job opportunities are out there for high school graduates after a program like this, as well as for graduates who go on to get Associate's or Bachelor's degrees. After this program, the sky is the limit.

"Learning Computers Bit by Bit"

The computer technology program has accomplished many projects, from community service to providing technical support to the district's elementary schools as well as the academic and technical divisions at the high school. The students have engaged in projects like Computers to Community, YTE Contests, The Giving tree, and the ever popular printer cartridge and cell phone recycling.

The longest continuously running project in the department is the printer cartridge and cell phone recycling which many people have experienced if you've donated an old cell phone or a used ink cartridge. To encourage school and community participation, we run many promotions like our "Trick or Treat" cauldron in the month of October and various raffles throughout the school year. Since the inception of the project we have recycled over 7,000 printer cartridges and cell phones.

Our department gives back to the communities by refurbishing donated PC equipment, which we then grant to people who simply can't afford a computer. In the past, we have provided refurbished computer systems to the NHS Food and Toy Drive, Burncoat House, the elementary schools, the Center of Hope as well as members of the community. Thanks to donations from local companies, individuals, and monies from CSL (Community Service Learning) grants we hope to continue the Computers to Community project. This year alone, we will donate computers to NHS Food and Toy Drive, Devereux Foster Care, The Festival of Giving Trees, and Adopt a Haitian Village Silent Auction, just to name a few.

In addition to community service, one of our goals in this class is to prepare to take the CompTIA's A+PC technician certification exam in our senior year. This exam is the industry standard for computer service and repair. We take other certifications in our sophomore or junior years such as IC3 (Internet and Computing Core Certification) and MOS (Microsoft Office Specialist). We are not just preparing to take these exams, but are actually putting our skills into practice.

Culinary Arts has been a great experience. I have been taught many things that will have helped, and will continue to help me in doing what I love, which is baking. Being in Culinary since 10th grade and looking at all that I have learned is incredible. It makes me so appreciative of the best teacher I could ever ask for, Mr. Dell 'Olio. If it weren't for him, none of us would know half of what we know now. Having Mr. Boland for this last year was also great. He was an awesome addition to our class. These two teachers are so great because it's obvious that they want us all to succeed. They always are there to help, and they encouraged us to try our best and give it our all. Knowing that you have such supportive teachers behind you, is one of the best feelings ever. You always have the feeling that you can do it! It's amazing how much we have learned and accomplished these past few years. We won't ever be able to thank Mr. Dell 'Olio or Mr. Boland enough. With all the functions that we have done outside of school, running the restaurant, and all of the projects and things we have accomplished, there is no doubt that we all have the ability to succeed.

Everything we wear, use, drive in, walk on or in, started out with a drawing. Someone thought of it, designed it and drew it. Computer Aided Drafting and Design (CAD) covers that area in all industries. Large companies have CAD departments, small companies may have an engineer or other technician completing CAD drawings and performing other duties. Tantasqua's CAD/ Drafting program can help students prepare for the following fields.

Civil Engineering - Roads, bridges, drainage systems, dams, preparation for large buildings.

Mechanical Engineering - All the mechanical things we live with, cars, microwave ovens, planes, metal chairs, computer cases.

Architecture - Designing and drawing homes, schools, hospitals, sky scrapers, and other buildings.

Students may choose to enter college in pursuit of an associate's degree (two years), a bachelor's degree (four years) or a master's degree (five years). Another option would be to obtain an entry-level position as a CAD drafter/ operator right out of high school. As long as we design, build and make things, engineers and CAD operators will have opportunites for employment.

A Day for Coming Home

a New England Masquerade

The dictionary says that "homecoming" is an annual school or university reunion for graduates. Tantasqua has its own traditional meaning for homecoming... a dance.

Each year, the student council is charged with the task of coming up with a fun new idea for the year's Homecoming Dance. The dance is usually held the Saturday evening following the home football game against the Southbridge High School team. Though this isn't a "homecoming" in the traditional sense, it is certainly a tradition for Tantasqua.

Mary-Beth Casey and Ian DeStefano make their way around the field house during the Loco-Motion.

The dance is semi-formal and is held in Tantasqua's Field House. The student council and other volunteers spend countless hours planning and preparing the field house for the event. Once again - they did a superb job as the field house was transformed into a feast for the eyes. This year's them was a masquerade.

Prior to the dance, during the football game, the homecoming court is announced. This year's court consisted of Ian DeStefano, Ryan DiGregorio, Josh Seguin, Alan Chua, Matt Sawyer, Gabe Rand, Francesca Desforges, Cria Picco, Caitlin Murphy, Lindsay Jones, Jess Volpe and Amanda Marble. And the King and Queen for this year's Homecoming Dance - Ryan DiGregorio and Caitlin Murphy!

Addison Danna and Chris Jeznach "Wanna Be" Mr. T!

Aaron Van Dolson, Chris Jeznach, Kyle Twarowski, Addison Danna, Kamikl Piascik, Jonah Faucher, Ian DeStefano, Kiki Wood, Brett Cooke and Ryan DiGregorio are the contestants for 2005's Mr. Tantasqua.

Kamil Piascik plays the bongos and tells a story to the crowd as his talent.

Ryan DiGregorio sings "Let Me Be Your Hero" as Brett Cooke dances.

Ruby Pontbirand and Hannah Datz are the hosts for the 2005 Mr. Tantasqua contest.

What was your favorite part of being IN the show?

"Rehearsal and working with all of the other contestants."
Chris Jeznach

"Probably seeing everyones talents the night before during the rehearsal. They were really funny, I laughed a lot."
Kamil Piascik

"My favorite part was watching Addison and [Chris] Jeznach getting down with "Wanna Be."
Kyle Twarowski

Kelsey Juozaitis and Chelsea Lemieux assist Kamil in the talent portion of his performance.

Aaron Van Dolson heats up the stage in the swim suit competition.

An Unimaginable Night

Mr. Tantasqua 2005

Mr. Tantasqua is an unimaginable experience that has been a tradition since 1999. Many have graced the stage and competed against their closest friends and biggest enemies to see who will win the title of Mr. Tantasqua.

This years competition was a close one. Ten contestants competed but only one could be crowned Mr. Tantasqua. The contestants for the 2005 show were unforgettable. Aaron Van Dolson,. Chris Jeznach, Kyle Twarowski,. Addison Danna, Kamil Piascik, Jonah Faucher, Ian DeStefano, Kiki Wood, Brett Cooke and Ryan DiGregorio all took the stage and showed Tantasqua what its students are really made of.

The competition is made up of four parts. First is formal wear. In this portion the show, contestants bring an escort to show off their attire. From an adorable dog to Hannah Datz's Aunt Lucielle, the escorts were just as eccentric as the contestants. The second part is the swimsuit. This gives the contestants a chance to show off their sense of humors and their tans (or lack of). From a rubber ducky and censored towel drop to a Baywatch flashback, the swimsuit aspect was so much more than just that. The third part is the most famous, the talent. Each contestant has an opportunity to show off their strengths and abilities. This year, we were shown the "Colors of the Wind" and serandaded to Enrique Inglesias' "Let Me Be Your Hero." The fourth part really determines the winner. It is the Question and Answer portion. Each contestant is given an unrehearsed question and they must impress the audience and judges with their answer. Thanks to this portion we learned what to do when one has a crush and exactly what color represents a person.

The winner of the 2005 Mr. Tantasqua contest is.....Chris Jeznach! From dressing as Mario and dancing to an old hit, "Wanna Be", Chris represents Tantasqua and left the entire auditiorium with tears of laughter in their eyes.

What was your favorite act?

"The Mario part - definitely."
Anthony Baron

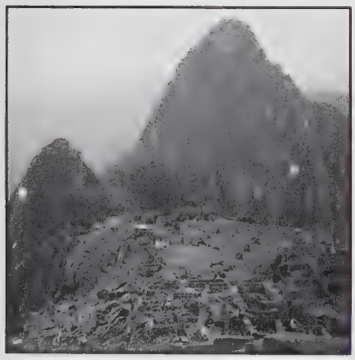
"Ian's Pocahontas dance. Hands down the best part of the entire show!"
Rachel Krans

"The Sponge Bob and Patrick part. And when he gets tackled."
Ray Corriveau

World Travelers...

Tantasqua takes Peru!

This past July, while the rest of us were out in the summer sun, a group of current and former Tantasqua students traveled with Ms. Ballard, Mr. Thompson, and some other adults to the far-away lands of Peru and Bolivia. They started their journey in Lima, the capital of Peru, and worked mostly southward in the country, stopping for a few days in the Amazon rain forest, Cuzco, the ancient Inca capital city, and remote Puno, on the border of Lake Titikaka, which borders Peru and Bolivia. From there, they continued south into Bolivia and spent the last few days of their two-week trip in the city of La Paz.



The travelers gaze on the beautiful scenery including the magnificent heights of Machu Picchu.

From close encounters on Monkey Island on the Madre de Dios River to the heights of Machu Picchu, a lost Incan city on the very top of the peaks of the Andes Mountains, to the floating reed islands of Lake Titikaka (which people actually live on), this group had their fair share of excitement, laughter, and llamas. Here are some highlights and pictures from the trip.

Peru travelers stopped for exscuisite cuisine after a long day of travel.

What was your favorite part of the Peru trip?

"Seeing a completely different part of our world!"

"My character Javier was very differnt from the various other roles I have played in past productions. This character had the biggest emotional impact on me and I very much enjoyed my experiences in Les Miserables."
Josh Croke

"Performing in Les Miserables was the most memorable experience of my high school career. To embrace a character of such depth and emotion was the most difficult yet most rewarding performance of my life."
Chris Zini

"I liked the wedding scene a lot because the dress was awesome - it was actually the same dress that a 71 yr. old woman wore to renew her wedding vows. The downside was I had only a minute to change into it and my dad wasn't too happy to see me in a wedding gown at the age of 14."
Marissa von Bleicken

An unforgettable event

Les Miserables on the Tantasqua Stage

Tantasqua High school has seen a lot of musicals over the years, but nothing like the grandeur of this year's "Les Miserables". Kit Randall, director, decided on this musical last spring and auditions were held. While there were skeptics about the success of such a powerful show, the selected cast began working hard to overcome the dubious critics.

Les Miserables is set in France during the revolution, and has a somewhat confusing plot which follows the stories of certain men and women affected by the revolution. The story is mainly centered around escaped convict Jean Val Jean (Chris Zini), who breaks his parole after being jailed for stealing a loaf of bread to save his sister's son. This sends the uptight Inspector Javert (Josh Croke) on a mission to find him, but he experiences trouble when Val Jean assumes a new identity, changing his name and becoming Monsieur Madeleine, the mayor. After holding this position for a number of years, Val Jean sees Fantine (Hannah Datz), who was fired from his factory and was now making money as a prostitute, about to be arrested by Javert. Feeling guilty, Val Jean frees Fantine and he promises her on her death bed that he will care for her child Cosette who is living with evil innkeepers, the Thernardiers (Kelsey J. and Zach W.) The story unfolds as Jean Val Jean raises Cosette (Marissa VB) as she falls in love with the revolutionary school boy Marius (Aaron Van Dolsen). Meanwhile the Thernardier's daughter Eponine (Ruby Pointbraint), all grown up, has feelings for Marius also. Javert has discovered the mayor is really Val Jean, and follows hot in his trail. In the wake of the revolution, the story unfolds.

Hannah Datz, as Fantine, sings "I Dreamed a Dream" on the Tantasqua stage, while reflecting on the cruelty of the unjust world she lives in.

Two of the show's tragic characters, Eponine (Ruby Pontbriand) and Javert (Joshua Croke), lead the chorus in an act one finale.

Marius

"Usually in plays, I am cast as the comic relief. But, for once, I got to play a more serious role where I got to fall in love and show more emotion as my comrades die."

Aaron vanDolson

Fantine

"It is the first time I took on a more serious role, and I could identify with her so well. I am proud to be a part of Les Mis."

Hannah Datz

All in all, the show was a major success, and one of Tastasqua's finest musical performances. The cast performed four shows and then performed for the school in concert version due to popular demand. Students and teachers alike felt the power of such a moving show, and there was hardly a dry eye in the auditorium.

An Unending Night of Fun

Sophomores kick back & spend the night

What could be more fun than spending an entire night with every single one of your friends? Hmmm.... can't think of anything? Well - imagine that plus another one hundred other people on top of that. Think - big screen televisions with video games. How about pool tables? Ping pong? Maybe a field house the size of a small airplane hanger totally open for playing basketball, twister, toss, double dutch jump-rope and anything else you can think of. What could possibly top all of this? Well... maybe a D.J. playing all of your favorite music so you and your friends can dance the night away. Sounds like things just can't get any better huh? Well they just did... Add to all of this fantastic fun - a gigantic blow-up slide big enough that it takes up the entire foyer of the school lobby as well as a blow-up boxing ring? Just call Tantasqua "a little piece of heaven." Well call it that during the Sophomore All-Nighter anyway.

Erin Loftus and Kristina Foley hydrate themselves after dancing for 45 minutes straight to Kyle Twarowski's (the d.j.) eighties collection.

What has quickly become a Tantasqua tradition was a great success again this past year. The class of 2007 enjoyed a night filled with fun and games, dancing and sliding. The evening continued on through the wee hours of the morning until donuts arrived around 5:30am. Who was up at this untimely hour? Well let's hope the chaperones! Overall there was much fun to be had and the Sophomore Class made a few dollars in the process.

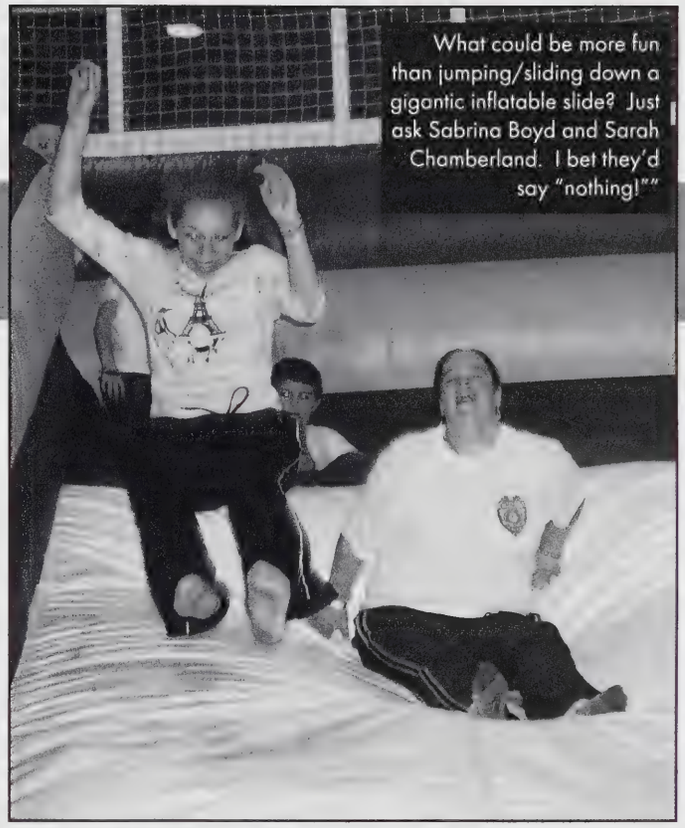
Did you really stay up ALL night?

"Yeah, it was pretty easy. There was so much to do."
Lauren Moore

"Yeah, well kind of, I stayed up until the morning then fell asleep for an hour."
Rose Keough

Randall Supernaut scopes out his next shot.

Joe Russin, Paige Szczypien and Brandi Rose look a little tied up in this game of twister. I wonder who held out the longest?

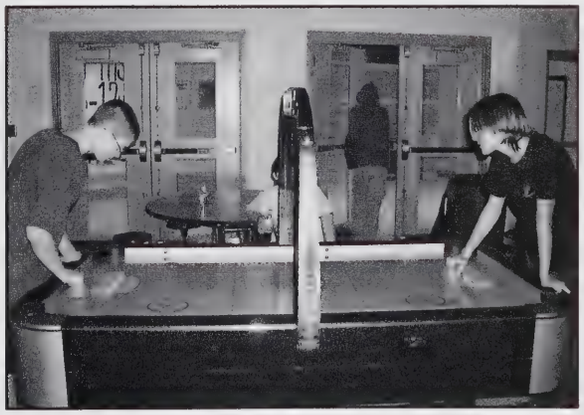


What could be more fun than jumping/sliding down a gigantic inflatable slide? Just ask Sabrina Boyd and Sarah Chamberland. I bet they'd say "nothing!""

Video gaming on the large sreens is always a hit at the all-nighter. Who doesn't like a little friendly competition?

Chase Smith, Stephanie Wasiluk & Rachel Scroth take well-needed break from playing twister to pose for a quick picture.

DJ Minchoff appears to be "getting down" right in the hallway. Who needs music when you have the sounds of teenagers yelling?



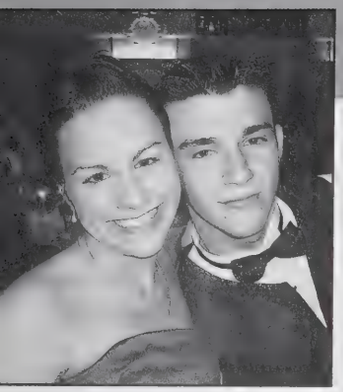
Katie Wildgrube, Aaron van Dolson, Kirstie Padykula and Kaitlyn Button seem to be enjoying themselves.

Kyle Diaz and Mickaylia Biron play the tie-breaking game of air-hockey.

"We were doing the mega air hockey. That was a blast!"
Melody Felton

"TheSophomore All- Nighter was the best and coolest school party I've been to."
Joe Russin

"The Sophomore All Nighter was a blast! Having an all nighter with my friends was great, the slide was pretty cool."
Sarah Chamberland

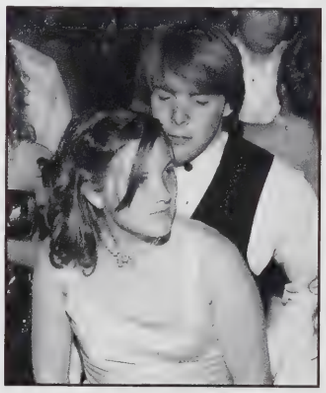


Amanda Marshall and Shane Martel look just great all dressed up.

Kris Beaton and Erica Deluca make a few laps around the dance floor arm in arm.

Erin Mcgee, Kiki Wood, MaryBeth Casey, Lindsey Jones, and Alex Carroll appear to enjoying the dance floor.

Erika Rodriguez and Josh Brigham make their way out onto the dance floor for a slow dance.



Brennan Green and Britney McGlone dance to a song in the "new" style of dancing (not face to face?).

"Prom was a blast. I had the time of my life, and I owe it all to you."
Joe Siniscalchi

"I never thought prom in a train station would be so fun."
Heather Swett

"Prom was probably one of the funnest nights I have ever had. EVER!"
Richie Denis

Caroline McGrath, Christina Podles & Cassandra Lebeaux listen intently as they are given instructions on a new dance.

Stacey Smith and Kim Clay appear to be enjoying this song!

A Night to Remember

Taniasqua takes over Union Station

Prom... an evening of elegance, outlined by gowns, tuxedos, limousines and flowers. And this year, it was also defined by location. The historic Union Station in Worcester served as the backdrop for this evening of glitz and glamour.

Students seemed a little unsure of what to expect before they arrived at the old renovated train station. What they found when they entered the building however put smiles on the best of them. Greeted by a beautiful entryway and long red carpet, students and their friends were led into a gigantic ballroom. Boasting a stained glass ceiling and balcony overlooking the dance floor, the room was gorgeous. Accented in marble and gold, it looked like something out of a Hollywood movie.

All dressed up and nowhere to go? Not Kristin Wood! She's headed to the prom and in STYLE! Her ride is a Jeep Wrangler!

Kyle Twarowski and Ben Keating pose for their parents on the common in Sturbridge - a popular spot for pre-prom pictures.

What's so special about Union Station?

Union Station, located in Worcester, was built in 1911. It was a major commuter terminal until 1975 when the owner abandoned the building for twenty years. Then in 1995 it was restored to the beauty that is is today. It was reopened in 2000 and today there is a restaurant, a grand hall that can be used as a ballroom and is also the stage for many jazz performers.

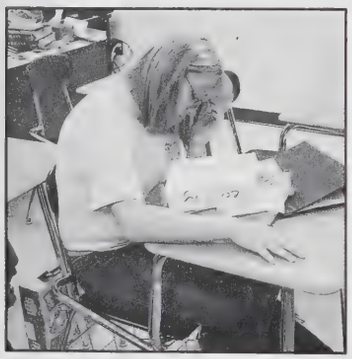
The evening progressed with a fabulous dinner prepared by expert chefs followed by dancing to the sounds of "Club T" productions. Students filled the dance floor and didn't leave until the final minute of the evening. Union Station provided a beautiful setting to an unforgettable evening. This certainly was a Night to Remember.

Tantasqua Reads...

Mountains Beyond Mountains

Summer reading at Tantasqua has gone through many transitions over the years with this year as no exception. This summer marked a new and unique summer reading experience. Instead of students choosing books from a list or having each class read a specific book, Tantasqua chose a single book for the entire school to read. Students, teachers, administration, cafeteria staff, custodians, parents and many others participated in the reading. A new tradition was born.

With much enthusiasm toward the new procedure, teachers generated many ideas for the celebration of the book called Haiti Day. Efforts were made to bring in Paul Farmer, the person around whom the book was written, as a presenter, but he was unavailable. In his place, Serena Koenig another individual in the book took time out of her busy schedule to come to Tantasqua to talk about her experiences working with Paul Farmer and his organization, Partners in Health.



A Tantasqua student looks up some of the different Haitian foods that were introduced to her during one of the break-out sessions. What is a plantane again?

While this presentation was occuring, numerous other presenters were speaking to students on many different topics surrounding Haiti and life there. In the evening, there was a potluck Haitian dinner followed by the entertainment of a group of Haitian dancers who performed for the crowd.

The entire event was embraced by both the faculty and the students and was a great success.

about the event

"I say 'bravo' to Tantasqua for setting high standards for students."

"One of our main goals was to come up with a book which could possibly be used by the whole school for summer reading."

"If you named a Tantasqua teacher, I could probably tell you how each of us did whatever was needed to make the day a success."

Kathy Light
English Teacher

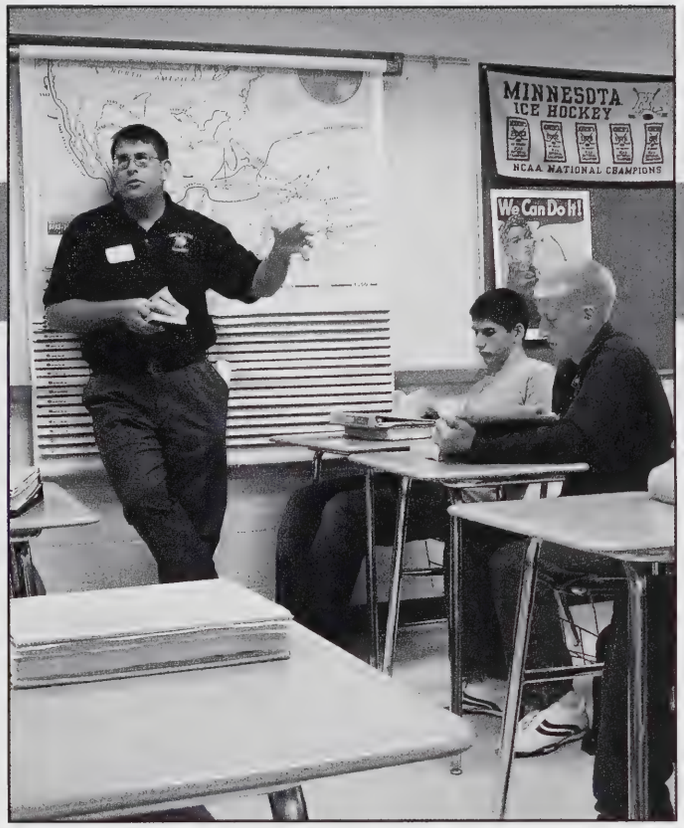
Mr. Anderson talks to his class about the geographic location of Haiti. Kyle Pelicane and Steve Glynn look on attentively.



Lindsay Brown pucker's up after eating some very sour food. Lindsay Yeager and Daniella Sanchez don't look like they ate the same dish.

Mr. White and Mrs. Simanski cleaned their plates. Time for seconds?

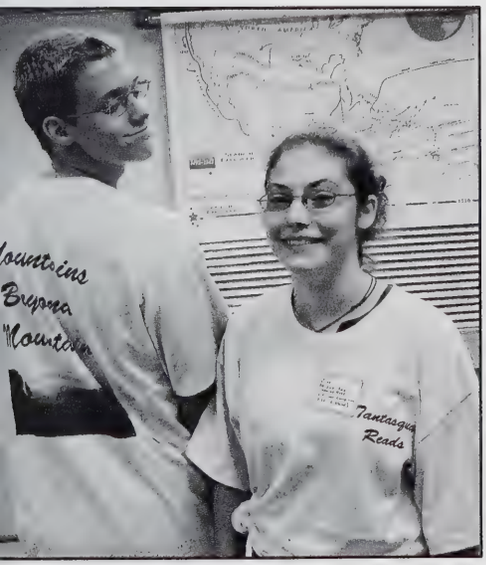
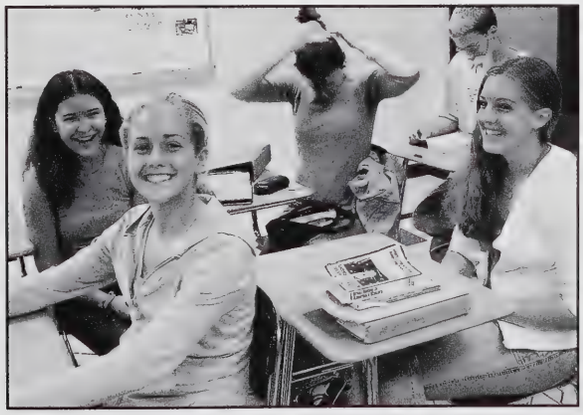
Amber Dimo pays close attention to the presenter in her session.



Kyle Diaz and Elyse Nedzweckas show off their "Tantasqua Reads" shirts.



Sage Foley and friends take a seat in one of the mini-sessions happening during Haiti day.

"It was good to see how people in Haiti live."
Kyle Landers

"Haiti Day brought a lot of knowledge of the suffereing and anguish in Haitian Villages. The information displayed that day was very eye opening. Teaching American students about the mosi-fortunes of other countries is extremely important in trying to aid these people.
Chelsea Lemieux

"I tried many intersting foods and it was delicious. Very cultural."
Erin Curboy

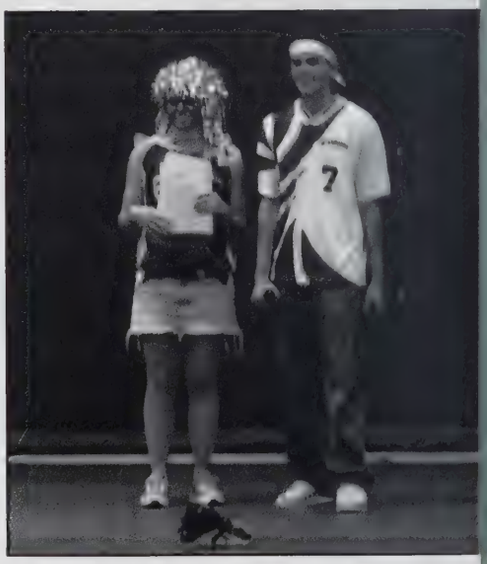
Chelsea Lyons, Sarah Curboy and Christen Perrault look fabulous in their field hockey unifroms.

"Pep rallys are always fun, it was cool to get all painted!!."
John Canavan

"It was different. I found the mascots amusing."
Alison Boulanger

"It is cool to be recognized. People get excited about sports that they wouldn't normally know about."
Blake Minchoff

The football team displays their team spirit with green and gold paint and jerseys.



Mary Beth Casey and Kamil Piascik helped run the successful pep rally.

Unmeasurable Spirit

Another Tantasqua Pep Rally

There's nothing better than a pep rally to demonstrate the spirit which lives in a school. Pep rallies occur two to three times a year and are a way to get to know the teams and show support for the athletic department. Pep rallies are a fun way to get pumped for the teams and encourage them so they feel they have the support of not only their teammates but also their other classmates. Usually there are introductions, then some shows, then the games. The introductions come at the beginning, but of course this just recognizes each of the teams. The team captains usually make a little speech on behalf of their teammates about their goals for the season and their different strategies. Then: "Let the games begin!" There are usually a variety of games and activities that both students and faculty can participate in. There is no telling what kind of games will be played, musical chairs, pie eating contests, tug-of-war, various sport related games, relay races, egg races, toilet paper dressing contests, there is no telling what kind of games we'll come up with. It's all in good fun. The cheerleaders usually do their routine to get the crowed pumped. The marching band and color guard have also done routines to get people in the spirit. New this year was the crowd's involvement in singing the school song. The choraleers were in the middle of the field house leading but everyone had a sing-along sheet so that everyone could sing our school song with pride.. The sports teams always do a good job of getting the crowd pumped. They are always doing something wether it be cheering for each other or trying to get all 1200 students to make a successful wave. Pep rallies are a great way to spread cheer and to have a good time with friends and just get excited for your fellow class and teammates!

Hilary Murphy marches into the field house with the marching band playing the clarinet for the pep-rally.

The Football Team vs. the Faculty. Guess who won? Yep, that's right...the Football Team!

Devon Lucier is very excited about her art - warrior costume!

and everything nice!

Making the Perfect Gingerbread House is an art. Countless recipes are used each year in the attempt to achieve perfection. As an annual tradition, the Foods classes and the Culinary department complete the task once again to capture perfection and achieve a greater mess of candy and "royal icing" than has ever been seen before.

Each year a competition is held within the classes to see who has made the best house. Some take this competition very lightly, others take it to an extreme, creating what is known to be the most competitive and ruthless part of foods class. Once the houses are completed, teachers and faculty members vote on which house they like the best. The votes are counted, tallied and thus a winner is chosen. While this may build tension between the classmates, it is all in good fun.

Ben Keating gives an enthusiastic thumbs up while displaying his very creative gingerbread house.

The Holidays are a time of happiness and generosity. While the gingerbread house making process is a happy one, generous, it is not. With candy that must be shared amongst the class and only a few days in which to create one's masterpiece, it is a wonder that such beautiful houses have been created. In the end, it is always worth the time, aggravation and patience spent in putting together the Perfect Gingerbread House.

The Perfect Gingerbread House

- 5 - 5.5 cups flour
- 1 tsp. baking soda
- 1 tsp. salt
- 2 tsps. ginger
- 2 tsps. cinnamon
- 1 tsp. nutmeg
- 1 tsp. cloves
- 1 cup shortening
- 1 cup sugar
- 1.25 cups molasses
- 2 eggs, beaten

Mix flour, soda, salt and spices thoroughly. Melt shortening in a large saucepan over low heat until just melted. Add (in order) sugar, molasses and eggs. Mix well. Cool slightly then add 4 cups of dry ingredients and mix well. Put mixture on a floured surface. Knead in remaining dry ingredients, add flour as necessary. Roll out dough with a rolling pin, make dough about .25 inches thick. Use cookie cutters to cut out the dough in desired shapes. Bake at 350° for 10-12 minutes. Allow to cool and piece together with icing. Enjoy!

Jen Gould and Kristin Wood admire their carefully made gingerbread houses .

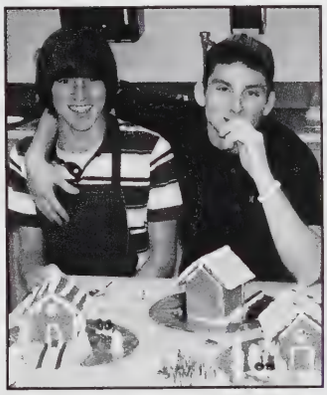
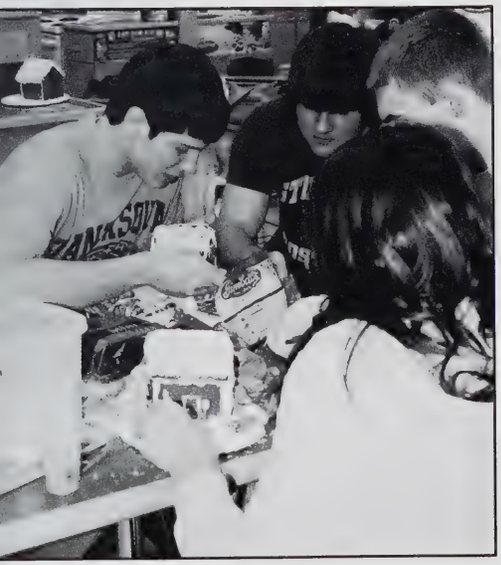
Ms. Collette's B Block Foods Class shows off their beautifully decorated gingerbread houses.

Michelle Caulkins and Kyle Porier concentrate on perfecting their gingbread houses.



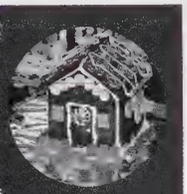
Taste-tester Doug Calvert discretely samples the candy as he decorates his gingerbread house.

Pat Shine and Kris Beaton pose for the camera with their gorgeous houses.



Ryan DiGregorio, Billy Dunn, Kyle Landers and Christen Perreault add candy to make the perfect gingerbread house.

Emily St. Clair and Mary Edgette laugh as they attempt to put together their gingerbread houses.



"I made a mansion! It was different because there was five of us and we each did a different side. We all did our own thing, it was fun."
Zora Baez

"It was fun because I got to eat a lot of candy."
Mike Mozeak

"My parents destroyed it and they ate it...I told them not to but they still did."
Ashley Marchessault

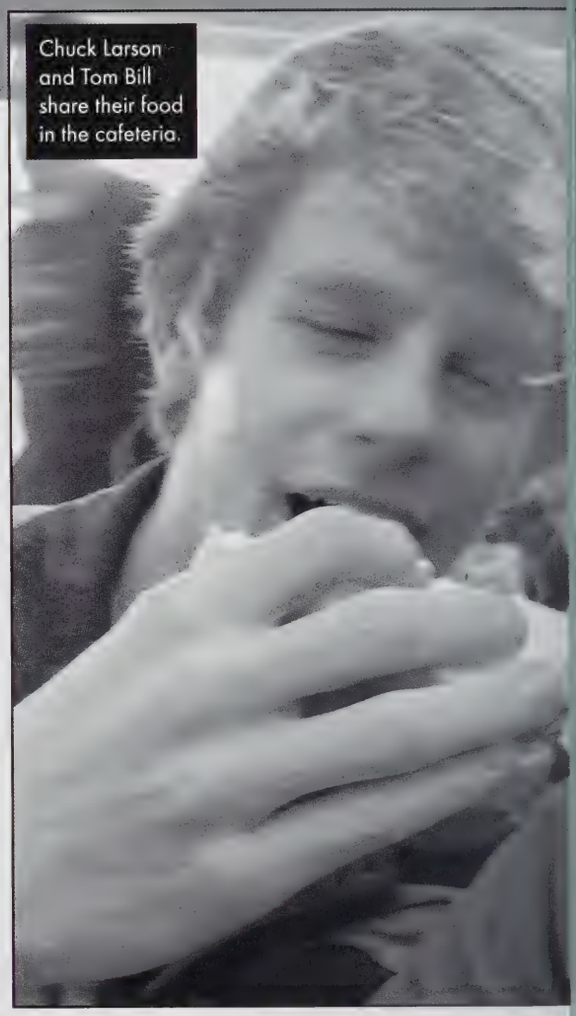
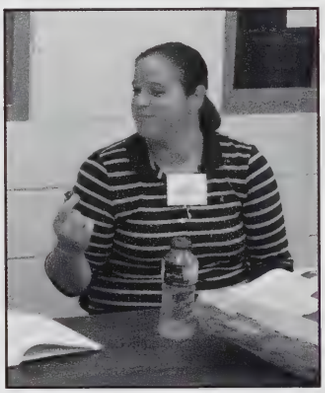
Max Moulton sits with his "crew" at lunch while enjoying the delicious school food.



Chuck Larson and Tom Bill share their food in the cafeteria.

Carissa Gervasi snacks on some yummy treats during first lunch.



Sarah Chamberland smiles as she eats her lunch while selling yearbooks in the cafeteria.

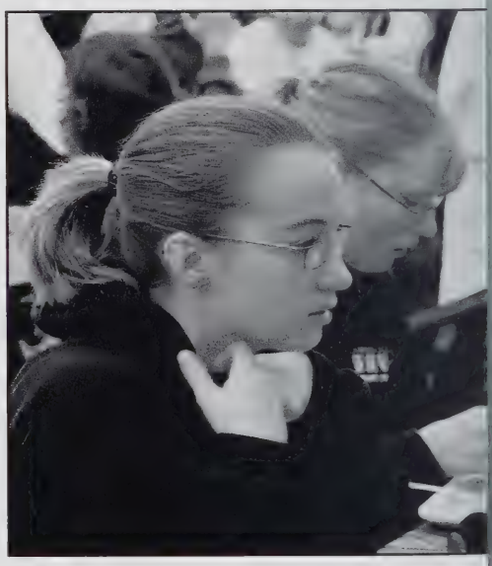
"Lunch is just so fun, you get to hang out with all of your friends."
Valerie VanGerven

"I never bought lunch until this year, I like the chicken ceasar salad the best, they should serve that more often."
Rachel Krans

"It is a fun social time."
David Howard

"It's nice to take a break from school work."
Jasper Proske

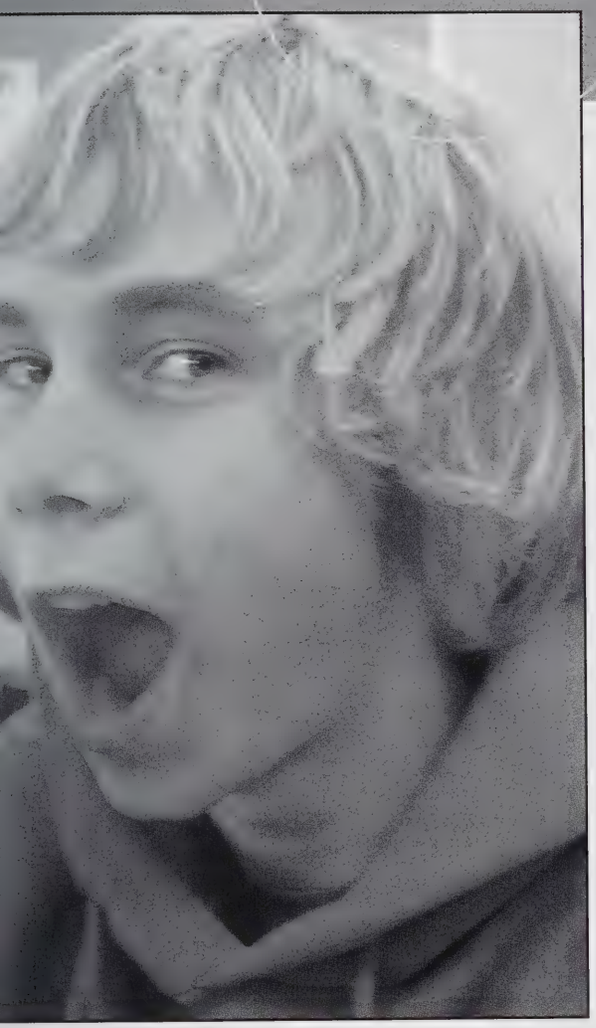
Addison Danna and Joe Gerrish bond and toast with milk at their lunch.



Haley Sullivan listens intently to her friend at the lunch table as she anxiously waits for the bell to ring for class.

Don't feed the animals...

Tantasqua Eats!



Lunch... a time and place to eat, socialize and relax. For many, it is the favorite "class" of the day. If only lunch was one of our 90 minute classes! So, with the precious half hour given to us each day, lunch time ultimately takes on a more sacred meaning than just eating. With this half hour, students can be seen finishing up last night's homework for d-block, making quick trips to guidance, and most importantly socializing with their friends. Socialization is essential to everyday high school life. Lunch gives students a chance to share their most embarassing moments of the day, their romantic endeavors, and their exciting stories. Socializing with friends also provides a way for everyone to relax at school. Hanging out with friends allows you to stop worrying about that big math test you took last block, and provides some relief to all the stress from school.

Justin Adams talks on his cell phone during lunch, a creative alternative to trying school food.

As for eating during lunchtime, there are a few options. Many opt for buying a school lunch. With at least two choices a day, students are bound to find something they like. Another alternative is bringing a lunch from home. This way, lunch is sure to be satisfactory, and it doesn't involve waiting in those lines. But for the last night homework doers, and the cell phone socializers, food is not always the most important part of lunch! So, whether its 1st, 2nd, or 3rd, lunchtime is enjoyed all around!

Bill Wilson, Joe Gerrish, Justin Woolf-Sullivan and Derek Wales listen to Zak Treadwell as he attempts to tell a joke. Joe looks confused, nice try, Zak...better luck next time.

What is your favorite food served in the school cafeteria?

"The grinders that they used to sell."
Chris Fasser

"Probably the chicken ceasar salad or the calzones."
Cassie Loughran

"The little salad with chicken."
Erin McGee

Andrew Morrison, Amanda Marshall, Kyle Twarowski and Becky Towns spend their lunch in the school store.

Unimaginable talent...

Fine arts at it's best!

Many students cross the path of the fine arts department at least once during high school. Many students have been a part of it since they were in junior high. The fine arts department has been providing the community with entertainment for quite some time. No matter what your style, the fine arts department has something for you. Having many ensembles and shows throughout the year, it takes a great amount of hard work, dedication and talent to be the best they can be. Talent is no stranger to this elaborate music program that we are so fortunate to have in our community. The fine arts department includes the Concert Choir, Choraleers, Vocal Jazz, Show Choir, Jazz Band, Concert Band, Marching Band, Color Guard, and who can forget the unforgettable musical "Les Miserables." This year the fine arts department has had some amazing experiences, the vocal jazz performed at the Jim Brickman concert at Mechanics Hall. The rest of the ensembles competed at Universal Studios in Florida in March. The show choir performed at many competitions this year as well. The vocal ensembles performed a holiday concert at the State House in Boston. This year has been an exciting one for the music department. The fine arts department is a huge part of the community and continues to grow bigger each and every year.

Anna Sotar practices everyday so she can make sure she doesn't mess up at the next concert.

How has music influenced your life?

"Music has changed my life, and it's extremely fun."
Matthew Carty

"Music is a way to escape from all the stress in life."
Rachel Krans

T-A-N-T-A-S-Q-U-A all the way! The fall cheerleading squad cheers their way to victory!

Cheerleading, like any other sport, is taken very seriously. You have to keep your grades up in order to be a part of the team. We practice everyday until 5 o'clock. We compete like any other sport and sometimes have weekend practices. Gymnastics is a big part of cheerleading and most of us take gymnastics classes during our own time to benifit our team and our ability. Twice a week we have to work out on our own time so that we can have the strength and endurance to be able to do what we do. Cheerleading also teaches dicipline, as you can tell above, we take these types of thing vey seriously. If you are not willing to put your all into it then cheerleading is not the sport for you.

For the past four years our one wish was to get certified mats, which are the mats that you compete on at competitions. We fundraised all year long and achieved that goal. This past season we had 13 of the most talented girls I have ever cheered with. Another one of our goals this year was to qualify for Regionals like we had last year. Although we didn't accomplish that goal, we accomplished much more, and that was the friendship and the bonds that were made by being part of the team.

The Boys Cross Country team is winning by a mile!

This year the team did very well. We all worked hard to meet the goal to become SWCL champs. It was a good thing we didn't have any major injuries to hinder our performance. It is speculated that next year the team will once again be in contention for the SWCL championship. The team is as a whole is very serious about the sport. We run all year round in an attempt to stay in shape and remain at the top of our game. Practice, hard work and dedication has been the main factor in making our team what it is today. We have come so far. We show improvement every year and we can't wait to see what happens next year. Even though running is hard work adn we put everything we have into it, we still have fun and that's the most important part of being a member of the team.

The lady warriors show off some fancy moves with their sticks as they move the ball past the opponents.

This years field hockey season went very well. Unlike most years, this year we lost only 3 seniors, so our team was very strong. Our season was off to a good start. We worked hard during practices and even harder during games. The varsity team ended this season with a trip to districts. The district game was against the Quabbin field hockey team. Though the season ended there, we were very proud of our accomplishments. We had so much fun this year. We all got along wonderfully both on and off the field. This team is like a family and I'm definitely going to miss both the game and the girls.

unparalleled improvements

Playing football this year was much more difficult than in the past. There was more running, more conditioning and lifting. All the hard work began to pay off.

This year's season went very well. We had a few great wins but we should have had a few more. We worked hard and all that hard work paid off. We were very well conditioned and well trained. Next year, we are going to have a lot more experience and numerous returning starters. We have a promising line and backfield and our defense is going to be quick and strong. We have some of the best coaches any player could ask for and I believe that next year, we will be looking at a winning season.

The soccer team battled through the season and made its way to districts.

This season, we started off without a coach but Mr. Khoury stepped up to work with us. Though his approach was somewhat different from what we had been used to, we soon adapted and the season went on. The team was a young team this year and needed a lot of work. Regardless of our experience, we still made districts which says a lot for the determination we showed as a team. With the loss of five key-seniors, Chris Jeznach, Addison Dana, Dan Johnson, Jon Balderelli and Kamil Piascik, next year's team will have it's work cut out for them. unwaivering desire

The warrior girls' soccer team shows the opposition just what kind of desire they posses to win!

It was a rough start for the Warrior Girls Soccer Team this year, but with a little teamwork, the girls came together to form a united pack. With a record season, it may seem like the Lady Warriors were withheld from last year's record breaking season. With the reformation of the team, the addition of a new goalie mid-season, and a new coaching staff with new positions, the girls worked hard to break through the barriers set before them. They found the greatest success when working together and listening to each other.

After a few team get-togethers, it was evident that sticking together was the path that these ladies must take. While creating bonds, the "spedys" took their enjoyment on the field and put it into hard work in practice, and effortful games. Though there were rough patches, these girls ended the season more unified as a whole then we've seenn from Tantasqua Girls Varsity Soccer in the past few years. They learned that unification was the best way to succeed in soccer, and in life.

unapproachable in the water

The Tantasqua swim and dive team has shown the competition what dedication and hard work really is.

This year, Tantasqua's swim team had a lot of great improvements. The team came together and worked extremely hard at practice to improve their strokes and times. We worked through the tough work-outs and built a great team in the process. We beat teams this year that we have never even come close to beating in the past. The team sent many more swimmers to Sectionals and also to State's this year. Each member of the team bettered their times and contributed to the team in one way or another. We got extremely close as a team this year and the work we put into the year definitely paid off for us. We hope to continue this strong force next year.

unpredictable on the court

The Boys Basketball Team dribbled it's way right into districts this season.

Basketball is a thinking person's sport. In order to play with skill, you must first understand the game, but at the same time, enjoy it no matter what the outcome. There are many fundamentals to the game and a player must not only understand them, but have the ability to demonstrate each skill while under pressure in a game situation. This season, we have had the coaching staff as well as the players necessary to meet the criteria of a successful season, and we plan to do so. There are two sides to every game - the offense and the defense. A team needs both in order to succeed and this year we have played on both sides of the ball.

The history of Tantasqua's boys and girls indoor track team has been many league championships. The two teams were very strong contenders heading into the 2006 winter season. Coach Gonzalez kept his runners working hard and Coach Green helped the jumpers and throwers improve their distances and heights. Key returners for the girls include Cria Picco, Sarah Hilker, Leslie Carlson, Lindsay Jones, Becky Ritchie, and Stephanie Kerber. Some strong senior competitors were lost from the previous year, but the girls did a great job stepping up to the challenge. Key returners for the boys include Kiki Wood, Ryan DiGregorio, Brett Cooke, Jordan Howe, Kyle Dunn, Kyle Diaz, and Brennan Green. Their talents ranged across the spectrum, but newcomers did a great job of stepping up. Midway through the season it seemed clear that the boys would capture the Southern Worcester County League championship. Their hard work in practice helped them get to that position and they were determined to bring home the trophy at the end of the season.

Last season, the Warriors returned to the district playoffs with a 13-7 regular season record. The team was full of veteran players, with four seniors and seven juniors. The captains were Dennis Brosnan and Ryan Ferro. Led by Coach Farrell, the team started out with an impressive 9-3 record, but then lost the next four games. After the tough losing streak, Tantasqua picked it back up and won the last four games. After a first round buy, the Warriors lost in excruciating fashion to Northbridge in the second round of the division II district playoffs. The warriors had some very exciting games in 2005, including a walk-off win at home against Quabog. In 2006, the Warriors look to have another stellar season and hopefully win the SWCL Conference. The warrior softball team has another successful season and keeps their enthusiasm coming!

The spring 2005 varsity softball season was a success on many levels. With the great leadership of Coach Lagerstrom and captain Heather Cournoyer, the lady warriors improved their record from the previous year. There were some big bats in the line up including Cournoyer, outfielders Alicia Boone and Rikki Wentzell, and shortstop Kayla Overly. Runs were in abundance because of the girls' power and speed. The team had very successful base stealers: Overly, Leslie Carlson, and Lydia Sampson. Freshman pitcher Kim Hurley stepped up her performance throughout the season to provide her team with winning situations. Seniors Alicia Goyette, Rikki Wentzell and Amanda Cyr, all kept the team's energy and spunk going with the help from the enthusiastic Zora Baez. All in all, it was a very memorable year and the remaining girls are looking to build upon it.

Bryan Avery tries his "volleyball" forehand technique. That is how you hold your arms to hit a volleyball right?

Coach Hamparian watches his team intently as they make their way to another victory.

After a very successful season the year before, the Tantasqua boys' tennis team went back out on the court to try and do it all again. Under the direction of Coach Hamparian and team captains Chris Zini and Andrew Kent, the Warriors played hard and fought until the very end.

Despite losing nearly all of their starting players from the previous year, the Warriors left a lasting impression on all of their opponents and look very promising in a rebuilding year. By the end of the season, a new team had emerged that was both confident and experienced, and looking forward to many more great seasons to come.

unbelievable

on the court

With a new coach, the lady warrior tennis team went out this year with heads high.

Coming into the season with only two returning starters and a new coach leading the way, the Warrior tennis girls were apprehensive about how the season was going to unfold. Once the snow melted and they moved out of the gym and on to the courts, they found they had no reason to worry. The team rebuilt quickly to become as strong as ever.

The girls adapted quickly to their new coach, Tammy Mielot, and started their season indoors. Traditionally, the team has no cuts, but this year an astonishing amount of new players joined the team. After rounds of cuts and challenged matches, the team was ready for action.

Throughout the season, the girls played their hardest and defeated rival teams, beating some with ease and some with sweat and blood. Captains Erin McGee and Alyssa Rogalski led the way at 1st and 2nd singles, playing some of the toughest girls in the league. The tennis girls strides led them to a winning season. They conquered over Grotan-Dunstable to make it to the second round of districts. Although it was a great match, the girls lost to Sutton, for the second year in a row. The team bonded together even stronger this season and next year when they lose only two starters, they're going to be unbelievable.

This year, the boys' and girls' track team had a very successful season. We all worked extremely hard at practice and the hard work and determination really showed at the meets. Our team is not only strong in the running events, but the field events as well. Track takes a lot of time and effort to not only get in shape, but to work on the techniques for the different field events. This year's track teamm put in the effort to have a successful season. We had a very decicated team and worked well together. With the talents demonstrated by the underclassmen this year, next year's team should be a real contender at the meets.

Un...

matched

What's a school without the Community which surrounds it? The community is what makes up the school district. It's the people who reside in the five towns, the businesses - large and small that have made the district home. Community can be defined as a group of people living together in a social unit. While we don't live together, Tantasqua can be seen as a home to most, even if they won't admit it. Our community is so much more than a place to sleep, eat and breathe, it is a place that we can call home. With generous contributions from business, Tantasqua has grown into what it is today.

A school that is comprised of five different towns probably seems chaotic. But each town brings its own uniqueness to our community. Brimfield, Brookfield, Holland, Sturbridge and Wales are different in their own ways. Yet something brings them together - Us. We are a community. The students and faculty at Tantasqua unite to bring together five towns so that they are more than just borders. They are long lost friends meeting again after a long summer and miles of homework built up towards the end of a semester. A community is a home, a niche, if you will. Without a community, one is lost, and there is no better Community than ours here at Tantasqua.

Matt -

It seems like your childhood happened in the blink of an eye. You were a sweet baby, curious toddler and serious adolescent. You've developed an awesome sense of humor and a code of honor that is rare among most adults. Both these traits will serve you throughout life in this crazy world. The humor to get through the tough times and the honor to do the right thing. Above all, and always hardest, is to do the right thing. You are my legacy and greatest achievement. Live well and full my son. And know I love you always.

Follow your dreams...

Dear Chris,

It's hard to believe that your senior year has come to an end and that you will soon be going off to college! We can hardly stand the thought of packing you up and sending you out on your own. But we know that you're about to enter a new and exciting phase of your life, and for that we are so happy for you. You've grown into a fine young man who we know will continue to make us proud, just as you have done for the past seventeen years!

Our love and God's blessings go with you,
Mom & Dad

Chrispy,
You made it!! Now you're off to college. These next four years are going to fly by and the real world will be here before you know it, so ENJOY! Good luck... and remember, I am only a phone call away! Love you!
You Little Big Sis,

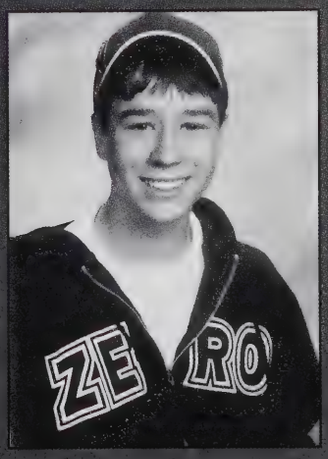
(p.s. Dance!)



Derek,

As you move on to bigger & better things, because I have seen you grow over the years, I know you are ready to take the next jump. The next 4 years of your life and those after will be full of fun times, great friends and unbelievable opportunities. Take chances, learn all that you can, but most important - have fun. And remember - no matter where your future takes you, you can always return to your past.

Michael,

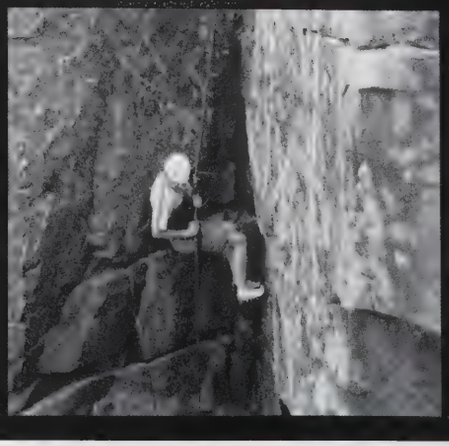
These 17 years have passed so quickly. You have been an amazing son (challenging at times) but you have brought us so much laughter. Your humor has always been beyond your years. As you go off into the world, always pursue your dreams, do your best, be safe and you will be sure to find happiness and success along the way. Most of all, remember that your family will always be there for you! We are so proud of you!

With all our love,
Dad, Mom, Kimberly,
Christopher & Jacqueline

Shannon,

Watching you grow, mature & develop your own identity during the last 17 years has been a sometimes mystifying but always wonderful experience. Always remember that good things do indeed happen to good people. You have truly become an intelligent, caring & beautiful young lady. You are our pride and joy. We hope you are as proud of your accomplishments as we are. The obstacles that you have overcome are many and you have done so with courage and determination. Your success is the beginning of a whole new world for you.

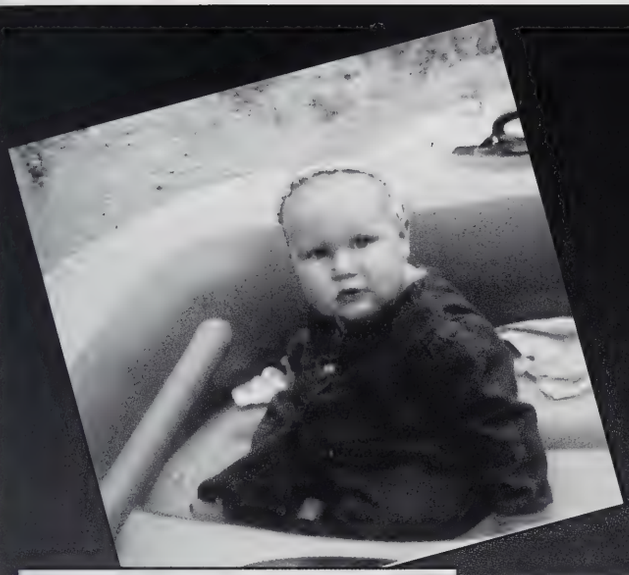
Love,
Mom & Dad

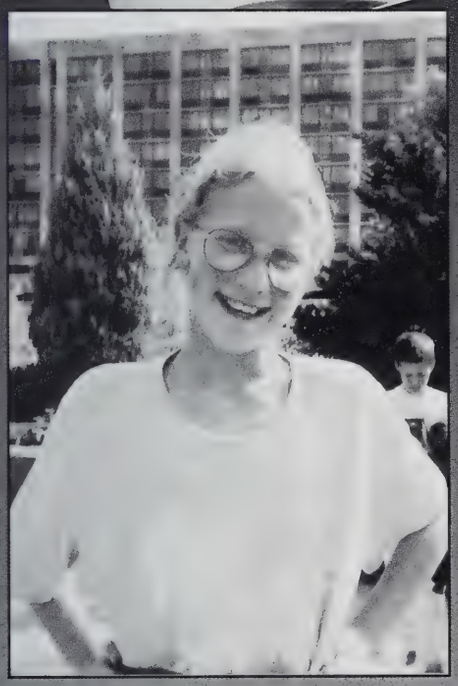


Bryant,

It seems like such a short time ago that you came into our lives. You have kept us amazed watching you grow into the wonderful young man you are today. Our best advice for you is to always REACH FOR THE STARS, BRY! You can accomplish anything that you set your tomorrows on. Dreams are just realities that have not happened yet.

Be happy, be safe, and always remember We Love You!
Mom & Dad





Christine,

As you enter this new phase of your life, know that we are always with you!

Congratulations!

Love always,
Mom, Dad, Ken and Steven

You have danced your way through life and traveled the world with us. We've watched you grow into the amazing young woman you are today, even though you will always be our little girl. Never lose your love of life, embrace your opportunities, dance forever, take what you have learned and fly.

Love - Mom and Dad

To my girls, my sisters,

We may all take different paths in life, but we will always take a little piece of each other wherever we go. Thank you for always being there for me. I love you. XoXo take a dream and make it come true."

It takes a lot of planning,
And a lot of hard work too -
It takes a lot of caring,
To make a dream come true...
And now that you've achieved this goal,
May you go on from here
To more success and happiness
With every future year!

RACHEL SARAH KRANS

Our daughter is a treasure, a blessing from above.
She's laughter, she's warmth, she's beauty, she's love.

Our daughter brings a special joy that comes from deep inside, as she grows into womanhood, she fills our hearts with pride.

With every year that passes, she's more special than before, through every stage, through every age, we love her even more.

Congratulations Kate!

Our little blonde with tousled curls has grown into a tall and lovely young woman ready to take the next big step!

Wherever life takes you, we know you'll always cherish friends and family, you'll care about helping others, you'll use your strong work ethic, and everywhere you live will reflect your special touch. (as well as your love of shopping!)

We love you so much, Katie, and we're always here for you. We wish you every good fortune as you go on your way!

Love always from,
Mom, Dad and Emily

You have become a strong independent woman, someone who I have come to admire. Seeing you grow over the years has been a true joy. I know you have the skills to make any opportunity in life work to your advantage. While your seriousness and passion for life are strengths, your winning smile and your dad's sense of humor has always made people want to be around you. We will always be there for you. Stay close.
Love - Mom & Dad

When you came into this world, you gave me the name of Memere and I have since cherished it through other grandchildren. I haved enjoyed our shopping trips and dinner dates with you and your friends. May you begin your new life as a young adult with love, health and happiness. Love always - Memere & Pepere

Francesca, through our lives, we have had our ups and downs. I have always looked up to you in every way possible. I remember we always used to joke around about running away together in the middle of the night. No matter what happens, I hope you will remember all the good times that we have shared. I just wanted you to know that I love you to death. Always, Angelique

Hey - Don't party too much at college - Garrett & Harrison

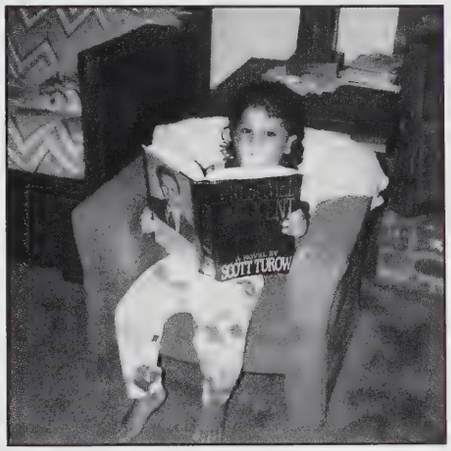
Dear Pumpkin Pie,

Watching you grow from a tiny bundle of joy to the beautiful, intelligent, talented young woman you've become has been one of the greatest joys of parenthood. You've done us proud sweetheart!

As you begin your journey into adulthood, keep your eyes and mind wide open, be prepared to follow your dreams, and always keep a smile in your heart. Believe in yourself as we believe in you and always take that extra step!

Always remember that wherever life takes you, one thing you can always count on is our love and support. Wishing you much success and happiness in all your endeavors.

Love Always,
Mom, Dad and Mandy



Congratulations Andrew!

Remember: Never try to teach a pig to sing!

We love you!

Joshua,

The time has come to allow you to fly from the nest. We pray daily we have helped you become wise enough to make the right choices. (You will be facing many difficult choices throughout life.) Brave enough to face the challenges this world will definitely hand you. Compassionate enough to see and serve the needs of others. Loving enough to share your heart with others. Strong enough to sore like an eagle and enjoy life to its fullest. Always remember Joshua, you can accomplish anything as long as you put your mind to it. No matter where the wind takes you in life, your family will always be there to love and support you! We believe in you!!

Congratulations and God Bless
Love - Dad, Mom, Jacob & Benjamin

Congratulations Ashely,

Your radiating smile, joyful attitude, good judgement, responsibility and determination has brought you to this point in life. It is time to start a new chapter. Keep Focused, Be Determined, Never Give Up! You are a shining star.

Dad, Mom & Justin

"Now I had the time of my life with my Ashepie."

To our son Eric,

I remember when you were my little boy, an extension of my very being. My every moment belonged to you. One evening I called you to supper. You came to the table all grown up. Where did all the between go? Suddenly I was to let you go - now I should always call you my son, but in my heart... you will always be my little boy.....

We love you,
Mom & Dad

THE Graduate News

Happiness

It seems like only yesterday that Mom was taking you to pre-school. As sister and brother, you have always looked out for one another. We have seen you grow and mature into young adults with hopes and dreams. You both have risen to the occasion, managing to deal with any challenges that you were faced with. You have proven that you can accomplish what you set out to do. You have reaffirmed the fact that both of you are the most important people in our lives, and that nothing else matters. We want you to know that words alone cannot express how happy and

Congratulations, we are so proud of you both.
Love Grandma and Grandpa

As both of you graduate, you have earned the key to the door---now, you must use that key to open the right door to your dreams. We both know that whichever door you choose to open, as long as you are happy, we will be on the other side waiting for you with open arms. Remember, have faith in dreams, for if dreams die, life is like a broken-winged bird that cannot fly. Congratulations on your Graduation Day 2006!

God Bless You Both.

Kira (My Cheerleader),

God gave me a special gift when he gave me you. I love your smile (even though we had to teach you how). You are so filled with happiness and laughter when you are doing your most favorite thing which is cheerleading. My little girl grew up too fast. We love you and are very proud of you.

Love forever,
Mommy, Mike & Casper

Little Sister,

You have grown so fast right before our eyes. We have held you while you were crying and made you smile while you are down. No matter how bad of a day we may be having, you always make the atmosphere fun and silly with your quirkiness. We love how stupid and light-hearted things become with you around. But, at this point in your life, we think the most important things for you to know and keep in mind is our pride. We are so very proud of you but not surprised. You are a bright star in a huge sky. You can achieve anything your heart desires and you will be great at anything you choose. Never doubt yourself because you, little sister, WILL achieve great things!! We believe in you and our hearts are always swelling with pride. We are so proud to be your big brother and sister. We love you with everything we have!

-Scottrick & Shy

Ruby Lacy Pontbriand,

We were truly blessed when you came along. Ruby, you shine bright like the true gem that you are. God has given you so many gifts to share with others. Among them are your true kindness and caring for others... you quirky sense of humor and endearing smile. Your talents of singing, dancing, acting and writing will carry you far in life, whether it's the West Coast or the East Coast or Somewhere over the Rainbow! Ruby, your beauty and truth will shine brightly forever.

Love,
Mom & Dad

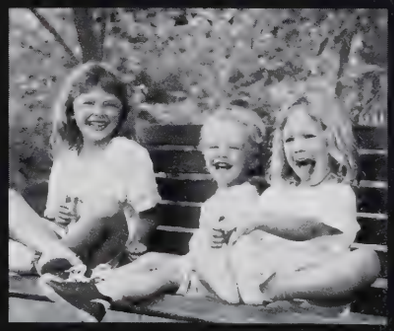
TO MY VALLIE GIRL

Where is that little girl? My vallie girl who would get so mad, cry and hold her breath until she fell to the floor! My little "Miss Stomp" as you voiced your "opinion" as you went up the stairs! My little butterfly collector with the torn net who could never understand why they got away. My little Minnie Moocher dancing your first recital at the "Cod Fish Ball". Valerie, you have turned into a woman with a beautiful soul, caring heart and gorgeous silhouette. You have accomplished much and will continue to achieve so much more. You smile through adversity knowing that your beautiful soul will guide you through. No matter where you go or what you do, the world holds a special place for you. I thank God every day for giving me the gift of you.

Love,
xxoo Mom, Dad & Kyle

Valerie Elise, you are a wonderful sister, a best friend, and a beautiful woman. Your beauty is beyond your inner and outer radiance. Your presence lights up a room and your heart touches everyone with all the love and compassion you possess. I am proud to say you are my sister, not just because I love you with all of my heart, but because everything you do makes me realize how truly amazing you are. I know you will be successful in whatever you decide to do. College will open up your eyes and many doors for you. The possibilities for your future are endless. Your talent, beauty, and intelligence will lead you to the success of your dreams. Don't forget to always follow your heart. Please know that no matter what happens, I will always be there for you to give you as much love and support as you may need. Our promise to each other will never end, as well as my love.

Love you always,
Ashleigh



Courtney,

We are so proud of you! Your laughter, spirit and passion for life is contagious. May your will and determination become channeled so your talents and ambitions become fulfilled. Just keep in mind, dedication makes dreams come true.

All our love,
Mom & Dad

Caitlin,

We are so proud of you and what you have accomplished. Congratulations and good luck. Keep on smiling and dancing!

CONGRATULATIONS CLASS OF 2006!

Congratulations to the Class of 2006!

and a sincere thanks to
Mr. Les Gardner
for the hard work, dedication and professionalism that he offers year after year to help make this yearbook the best that it can be.

Thank you!
The Yearbook Staff

As you can see by looking through this book, life here at Tantasqua is ever-changing but undeniably interesting. The student's here embrace tradition, pride and excellence in their own pursuit to make the most out of their four years here at Tantasqua. The memories that are made on a daily basis will not be forgotten and somewhere, sometime down the line, each and every one of us will look back on these memories with a fondness that is not familiar to us yet. The growth of this fondness takes time. But, it will unmistakably grow on each of us over the years. May this book become a cherished reminder of the unforgettable memories, the unbreakable friendships, the undefeated spirit and most importantly, the unmatched education that was achieved within the doors of the finest educational institution in central Massachusetts - Tantasqua.

KENT

The preparation for the 2005-2006 yearbook began last May and continued throughout the summer. There are so many components to making a yearbook that if we started in September it would not get finished. By far, the hardest thing is coming up with a theme. This year's theme was "un...". The theme needs to hold the book together. The reason behind it is simple; you can apply it to so many aspects of life, you can take a negative and turn it positive or vice-versa. No matter how or where you use it it can have a lasting impact by adding those two little letters: un.

Over the summer Ms. Wicker, Lily Olson, Julie Kent, Sean Johnson, Sarah Chamberland and I all attended the Yearbook New England Conference at Bridgewater State College where we learned the technical aspects of creating a yearbook. While at camp we designed the cover and came up with the theme. We continued working throughout the summer brainstorming ideas for layouts, sections and what exactly we wanted to accomplish in making this yearbook.

When we got back to school in September we were well on our way. Not only did we stay after school at least once a week, but there were also four interns this year working three different blocks to make this yearbook the best it could be.

I want to thank Cassie Loughran, Lily Olson, and Julie Kent for stepping up and doing something that needed to be done. Working with them in creating something that both myself and my classmates will look back on to remember the good times we've had has been a great experience. Thanks girls! You're the best!

I would especially like to thank Ms. Wicker for all of her hard work, and for putting up with all the little technical questions we would ask when we didn't know how to do something. Also for all the hours upon hours of extra work she did to help us complete this yearbook. We would not have been able to do this without her and we were so lucky to have the opportunity to work with such a great person!

A special thanks to Les Gardner for lending his services to us on so many different occasions. This yearbook would not be what it is without his wonderful photography. Thank you Mr. Gardner!
